Product Description:

The range of BA Electronics quick-fit assemblies can be used with the range of SABRE full face masks as shown on page 2 of this schedule:

The assemblies connect into the facemask by a quick fit connection similar to that used by the demand valve.

The assembly can incorporate a Head Up Display (HUD). This consists of an instinctive traffic light system that connects to the Sabre Black Box. It is housed within the facemask for protection.

The assembly can also incorporate a communications device that consists of a microphone mounted inside the mask and a boom-mounted ear piece.
